Hi Tom,

The clearest issue in your post is ownership. Pepper Pong already has creators, editors, a designer, AI tooling, and thousands of videos each month, but the testing loop is spread across too many people.

I think the leverage is less footage and more decision quality: which personas, hooks, angles, CTAs, and awareness stages deserve editor time, then what the data says after launch.

A short plan is below the note, covering Meta creative ownership, weekly briefs, naming, dashboards, learnings, and how the 90-day system would fit Pepper Pong.
