Hi Kerem,

Heala's brief is really about brand formation, not just 300 assets. You are pre-launch, using the real app screens as the brief, and asking someone to shape how the product looks and sounds from day one.

I would lead with the 3D body scan because it gives people something concrete to stop on before explaining recovery, sleep, nutrition, and AI coaching.

The page lays out how I would turn that into a repeatable Instagram and TikTok content bank, with the trial, batch system, pricing, and fit check in one place.
