Hi Rohit,

I'd choose one search topic tied to AI advertising and one PR angle for Indian brand decision-makers, then track whether each brings relevant enquiries to the site. For example, a topic about keeping AI ads consistent with a brand could speak directly to the quality concern in your brief.

Before expanding either approach, I'd check which enquiries turn into sales conversations and label any media coverage as earned or paid. That gives the 90-day review a clearer basis for deciding what to continue.
