Hi Jonathan,

You are hiring for a Social Media & Content Specialist right as PPPC prepares to bring a rebrand into the market. The hard part is that the role has to be strategic and hands-on from the start.

I think the risk is not content volume. It is whether Instagram, LinkedIn, Facebook, short-form video, newsletter input, bilingual review, and KPI learning all move together without slowing your team down.

The page covers how we would handle that as a done-for-you team, including the first actions, 90-day execution plan, pricing, and fit check.
