Hi Zhuoling,

You are not asking for a normal GHL cleanup. You need TCM moved into an account you own, with the current setup rebuilt from reference access and no provider contact until the approved port stage.

I think the risk is not the rebuild itself. It is missing one hidden dependency inside a workflow, calendar, field, tag, or number reference and only finding out after the switch.

The page below shows how I would inventory, rebuild, QA, document, and handle the final number port without turning this into a redesign.
