Hi Matthew,

You are hiring for a rare kind of D2C marketer: someone who can lead strategy, improve Shopify pages in Figma, build Klaviyo campaigns, review video creative, and still jump into the work.

My plain opinion: that is closer to a small senior execution team than one full-time hire, especially when launch conversion is the outcome.

I put the short plan below the note so you can compare the hire path against a done-for-you team and judge the fit from the work.
