Hi Dr.,

SMILE. The part that matters here is after the camera stops: a 6-hour shoot becomes 10-12 YouTube videos, reels, editor notes, CTA checks, scheduling, and creator outreach.

I agree this is a coordinator/execution role, not a strategy role. The weak spot is usually the handoff system, because one vague note or broken link can slow the whole month.

The page covers the 90-day workflow, weekly founder recap, YouTube/Reels packaging, creator outreach tracking, and a paid pilot path. A short plan is below the note.
