Hi Lori,

You are not just asking for copy. You need someone who can protect an established voice while explaining why expert-backed AI is different from generic AI output.

My plain opinion: the Design Intelligence page is probably the hinge. If that idea is clear, the homepage, paid ads, and lifecycle emails have something specific to build from.

The page below lays out how I would turn the website, ads, SEO copy, and emails into a measurable path to qualified leads.
