Hi A.,

ZenSpace needs an 8-week strategist who can keep Event Solutions and Platform separate across SEO, AEO, and social. The constraints in your post are clear: no invented claims, no AI blog pile, no collapsed brand story.

My take: the hard part is not content volume. It is deciding which buyer question each division should own, then giving design, video, and MarTech a system they can run.

The page lays out how I would approach owner acquisition, AI citations, social briefs, workflow specs, and measurement. It should make fit easy to judge.
