

2 September

Hi Jeremy,

You need a self-directed communications freelancer for a short September and October push around Drawing the Line events, with Canva graphics, social posts, Wordpress, Discord, and volunteer coordination in the mix.

My plain opinion: the key is not just posting more. It is turning each event into a clear inquiry path across LinkedIn, Bluesky, Instagram, newsletter, blog, and Discord.

The short plan below covers the first actions, the execution system, pricing, and where a one-off project makes more sense than monthly.
