Hi Charles,

Charles, the coaching constraint is clear: your members are sharp accountants, bookkeepers, and CPAs, but many have never run Meta ads or built a funnel before.

I think the win is making client acquisition feel executable, then keeping the review loop tight enough that stalled funnels, weak hooks, tracking gaps, and unclear next actions get fixed before momentum dies.

The short plan below covers the coaching system, member reviews, GoHighLevel-friendly QA, training assets, weekly reporting, and the path to qualified leads.
