Hello PublishReady.app team,

PublishReady is selling to editors, publishers, content managers and copywriters, so the marketing cannot read like a generic AI-humanizer pitch.

I think the first job is to turn the product from a broad writing tool into a specific lead offer: editorial review, evidence checks and drafts that are actually ready to publish.

The short plan below covers the diagnosis, first campaigns, funnel work, pricing and how I would judge qualified leads for this SaaS.
