Hi Jutta,

Bob.

I'd separate the first creator list by device and country before writing any outreach.

For each diabetes creator, I'd mark country, the CGM they actually discuss, and whether their content fits daily glucose checking or pregnancy with diabetes. That matters because Happy Bob supports Dexcom and FreeStyle Libre in the US, but Dexcom in the UK and many other countries.

It would keep the first trial from sending a strong creator the wrong product angle, and it gives the 6 weeks a cleaner way to judge which communities can actually produce user growth.
