Hi Laura,

Since the role is meant to own Meta Ads and GoHighLevel together, I'd make the first decision rule about hooked calls before increasing spend.

I'd track every new lead against four fields: source ad, contact status, hooked call, and sale outcome. Then each weekly budget move can be tied to the path that creates real coaching conversations, not the campaign with the lowest lead cost.

That matters more for a premium 1:1 offer, where ten weak enquiries can look better in-platform than three serious prospects.
