Hi Christopher,

Christopher, your brief asks for someone to own the creative engine behind a fast-growing banking app, but the project title points to Dr. Bob's Tooth Powder. I would not guess around that gap.

The proposal separates what can be planned now from what depends on your private analytics, offer, audience, and team context.

I mapped the sprint around GTM, creative, automation, and a measurable path to qualified leads, so the page should make fit easy to judge.
