Hi Hanna,

You are not just hiring for ads. You are hiring someone to connect paid creative, brand storytelling, design, video editing, content strategy, and AI-enabled experimentation.

My plain opinion: this is a lot of surface area for one person, especially when the media agency still owns buying and the strategist has to turn existing assets into test-ready work.

The page below shows how we would cover the Creative Performance Strategist outcomes as a small execution team, then make the fit easy to judge.
