Hi John,

TikTok Shop launch for PitchFit has a real sequencing problem: Seller Center, Shopify sync, products, inventory, tracking, and affiliates all have to line up before the sales data means much.

My opinion is that affiliates should not be treated as the launch engine until the shop and offer are clean enough to measure.

A short plan is below the note: the 30-day launch system, the 90-day path, pricing, affiliate structure, and tracking cleanup for an easy fit check.
