Hi Meelad,

You are hiring for a Creative Strategist who can research ecommerce brands, write AI video briefs, guide editors, and keep improving Meta ads from performance data.

My plain opinion: this is a system role, not just a creative role. One person can work, but the risk is ramp-up time and a single point of failure across multiple client accounts.

The short page below shows how TGE would cover the same outcome as a done-for-you strategy team, so you can compare the two paths cleanly.
