Hi Ali,

Ali, the useful constraint is that this is lead generation for independent convenience-store operators, not a content posting role.

I think the hardest part is avoiding spend that reaches people who shop at convenience stores instead of the owners and decision-makers Electrum needs. The page covers an operator-focused acquisition system across Meta, LinkedIn, Google, retargeting, email, lead forms, tracking, and CRM handoff.

A short plan is below this note so you can check the fit quickly.
